

Movers and Shakers

Posted on September 27, 2010

Matthew Amata

Matthew Amata was recently named president of National Liquidators, a leading vessel recovery and remarketing firm, and president of MariTech Services, a vessel maintenance and repair service and an affiliated company of National Liquidators.

Amata has been with the company since 2001 and, prior to his promotion, he served as vice president of National Liquidators. In his expanded role, he will have full operating responsibility over National Liquidators and MariTech Services.